Bans on booze work: Official

- Temporary liquor bans in place at nine of 250 provincial parks
- Around 25,000 campers use Alberta campgrounds every year

KATIE TURNER
CALGARY@METRONEWS.CA

Campers may not appreciate long-weekend liquor bans but according to the province, the bans are working.

Since 2004 when the temporary liquor ban program was first implemented, unacceptable behaviours such as impaired driving, assaults and vandalism have decreased in these areas by an average of 90 per cent, according to a provincial spokesperson.

"The reduction of about 90 per cent has shown us that it has been an effective way to still allow people to enjoy the parks over the long weekend, but still make it safe and friendly for everyone," said Erin Larson of Alberta Tourism, Parks and Recreation.

Larson said the decision to enforce a ban is based on previous incidents at particular parks.

KATIE TURNER/METRO

► RCMP Sgt. Dave Hardy

"The sites selected are re-evaluated every year and we do look at those enforcement stats and see if it's still required there or not," she said, adding the ban was removed at one of the parks this year.

Rather than deterring campers, Larson said the parks with bans tend to attract more families and those sites tend to remain popular.

RCMP Sgt. Dave Hardy said they have scaled back enforcement slightly over the last few years as more Albertans are complying with rules, but he added there will still be plenty of officers out this weekend.

Long weekend

- Charges Last May long weekend, traffic units laid more than 2,800 charges throughout the province — 2,269 of which were speeding violations.
- Suspensions 154 impaired drivers were also charged and 14 were issued 24-hour suspensions.
- Campsites There are approximately 13,700 provincial campsites in Alberta.
- Bans For a full list of provincial campgrounds with liquor bans, visit www.tpr.alberta.ca.

"There will be check-stops out in locations that have historically had high volumes of campers and recreational users. We will be out just doing what we can to make sure people get to a destination safely."

Residents of fire-ravaged northern Alberta communities in and near Slave Lake are finally learning if their homes were engulfed by flames.

The town has released a detailed photographic map that shows 374 lots were destroyed by the wildfires that swept through the area Sunday evening. Another 52 lots were damaged. There is also a map of homes in the nearby Municipal District of Lesser Slave River that shows 59 lots were destroyed and 32 were damaged.

Flames forced roughly 7,000 people to flee from their homes.

Slave Lake Mayor Karina

Pillay-Kinnee says many residents will be heartbroken by the news, but they need to know.

"This is a very emotional undertaking for everyone involved," she said Thursday as the maps were shown to people at evacuation centres in Athabasca, Westlock and Edmonton.

Arena deal up north fuels 'Dome discussions

► Flames have expressed interest in new facility ► Fans hope to see Saddledome replaced someday

@METRONEWS.CA

Chatter of a framework arrangement for a new Edmonton arena circulated through Calgary hockey circles Thursday as Flames fans wondered if their team could someday find itself in new digs as well.

Ken Travers has been a Flames fan since the team arrived in Calgary and attends up to 20 games at the Saddledome each season.

"The building's outdated," he said. "They need more luxury suites generating income. It's certainly not modern anymore."

Flames spokesperson

Peter Hanlon admits the team is watching proceedings on a new facility in Edmonton closely, but he would not speculate on local developments.

"We are not ready for that public discussion yet," he said.

Mayor Naheed Nenshi said he is open to discussing proposals for a new facility, adding, "I have never been a huge fan of public dollars for that kind of infrastructure, but I am willing to be open minded."

Other Calgary groups speculated that a new facility could bring benefits beyond hockey.

No fires, no booze, no fun?

► Provincewide fire ban hasn't been instituted since 1988 ► Calgary has banned all backyard fires while Edmonton is allowing fires in legal pits

@METRONEWS.CA

Conditions for campers may not be ideal during the first long weekend of the summer, but at least one Al-bertan is determined to make the most of it.

New mom Cindy Degrace, 24, has camped with her family and friends over the May long weekend for years, and the fire ban didn't make her reconsider "even for a second."

"We've been planning it so long, we can't call it off at this point because of a fire ban," said Degrace, 24.

As for the booze ban, she and her fellow campers have long boycotted provincial campsites for their stringent rules. Instead, the crew sets up camp in a field off of a service road near Caroline, Alta.

Rather than cancelling her yearly trip altogether, Calgarian Lori Chick will be heading west.

"We really like our camping, and you wait and you wait and you wait all winter, and then you wait for May long weekend to come and then that happens," she said. "So, we decided to cancel that and we're heading to B.C. where we can have a fire."

Echoing Chick's feelings about the fire ban, Edmontonian Emily Cobb said she and her friends decided against making their yearly trek to a cabin near St. Paul.

She and her friends had fireworks and arrangements to unwind, but not being able to have a fire, a camping tradition, is like a big wet blanket on their plans.

"Who wants to eat boiled hot dogs on the May long?" she asked. "With the money it takes for gas now, plus the fire ban, it's just not worth it."

The forecast

Hot weather isn't in the forecast for Calgary over the weekend.

- Saturday will be the warmest day of the weekend at 20 C.
- Cloudiness is expected on Friday and Saturday, while showers are in the forecast for Sunday and Monday.

► Annali Lazowski and Jeremy Kavich aren't dampened by the forecast or the fire ban as they pack up to camp this weekend.

Fire banned across the province

The province is taking extra precautions this long weekend by instituting an Alberta-wide fire ban to prevent further incidents of wildfires.

As of Thursday, there were more than 70 wildfires burning throughout the province, including a massive fire in the community of Slave Lake.

Karen Ritchie, information officer for Sustainable Resource Development, said despite the forecast of wet weather in the southern part of the province, the ban was necessary.

With a large portion of the province's firefighting resources already being utilized in Northern Alberta, the rest of the province is not as protected, according to Ritchie.

"So many people have been exported to support the fires up north," she said. "What that means is they're completely utilized so if a fire were to start, it's just that much more of an issue here."

Ritchie said the only fires that campers will be allowed to set this weekend will be for cooking appliances such as propane or gas barbecues or pit stoves.

"I expect that people will primarily follow (the ban). In spite of the weather, they understand it's an important thing to do." ● KATIE TURNER caused by the wildfires in Slave Lake.

I've spent hours pouring over pictures, news reports and blogs. It really is like watching a terrible Hollywood movie filmed right here in this province. And that's saying something because we've made some pretty crummy movies (Santa Baby, Passchendaele).

Like many Albertans, I've been absolutely transfixed by the devastation and loss

More than clothes or food, money is an essential part of helping anyone recover from a tragedy. The need is only magnified when you think of trying to help practically an entire city all at once.

I'll be honest, I'm not usually the most charitable person. That's not to say I'm not a nice person, I'll brave the Deerfoot to pick you up at the airport, or sneak you into the Nashville North. But when it comes to donating money, it's one of those things that I mean to do, I just never seem to get around to it.

I'm admitting this, not because I love washing eggs off my house, but because I don't think I'm the only one who could afford to be more charitable. I think there are lots of people who watch news reports and think, "How sad," and do nothing about it. But this time is different. This time it feels closer to home, so I'm admitting my fault in hopes of encouraging others to do the same.

When I was younger, a friend of mine's place burnt down. We were just kids, so I didn't have any money to give; instead I gave her my favourite stuffed animal. It was a soft, brown bear and it was probably my best friend.

I probably should have saved up my allowance for a few weeks and given her some cash instead, because to this day I still miss that bear. But it made her happy and I've never forgotten that.

But I'm not a kid anymore. I'm a grownup. With a nice paycheck.

I buy coffee everyday and (sometimes) pay for the C-Train. I often go out to eat and have more clothes than I know what to do with.

Like so many other people reading this right now, Calgary has been good to me. But being Calgarian has also taught me that if someone needs your help, you should give it.

To put it in perspective, how often do you go out during Stampede and buy a stranger a drink? Donating to Slave Lake is like buying that stranger's drink, only you'll feel much better about it in the morning.

Text RED CROSS to 30333 to make a $5 donation to the Red Cross relief efforts in Slave Lake.

Presenting the fixed short long variable mortgage. Don't worry, we'll explain.

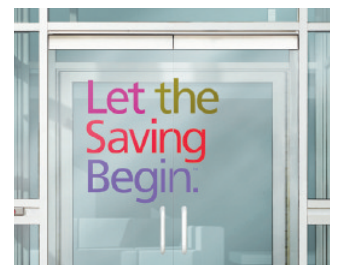

Deciding which mortgage term to go with is never easy. Locking in could mean missing out on a rate drop, while going variable makes you vulnerable to a potential interest rate increase. But what if you could take the benefits of both and put them to work for you?

The race is put on by BeCause, a group sponsored by the United Way in Calgary. Its goal is to increase awareness of social issues that affect our city and how to combat them in Calgary's younger demographic.

"Younger people have time but they don't necessarily have money to donate," said Robert Murphy, BeCause committee member. "It's letting people know that it's not

Great Firewall designer pelted

► Egg, shoes allegedly thrown at Chinese online censor

Chinese police were seeking the man who allegedly threw an egg and shoes yesterday at the computer scientist famous for designing China's Great Firewall of web controls.

The attack — if true — is a particularly bold one for China and underscores how strongly people feel about the country's strict Internet censorship.

A Twitter user posting under the name "hanunyi" claimed that one of the shoes struck computer expert Fang Binxing while he was visiting Wuhan University in Hubei province. Fang, president of Beijing University of Posts and Telecommunications, is

Fang reviled

► Fang Binxing has felt the ire of the online community before. When he launched his microblog in December, it was taken down within hours after anonymous posters peppered it with hundreds of caustic or sarcastic comments.

popularly known as the "father of the Great Firewall" and is reviled by many Chinese web users.

An officer at the Luojiang Public Security Bureau confirmed police were sent to the university to investigate a shoe-throwing incident that targeted Fang.

The officer, who refused to give his name, said Fang was on his way to the airport.

Hanunyi posted a live account of the alleged shoe toss on his Twitter page, including photos of the door to the lecture hall where it happened, a hand clutching an egg in preparation and bare feet after he fled.

Three hours later he expressed surprise at the huge online response.

Chinese Web filters routinely block searches for content that authorities deem too politically sensitive, such as the banned spiritual group Falun Gong or jailed Nobel laureate Liu Xiaobo. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 'sexiest time machine'

▶ For those who read the articles, users can search writers such as Hunter S. Thompson, Jack Kerouac, Norman Mailer and Kurt Vonnegut

Good news for those who thought their copies of Playboy were gone forever when their moms found them and threw them away.

Playboy launched a web-based subscription service Thursday called i.playboy.com that allows viewers to see every single page of every single magazine — from the first issue nearly 60 years ago that featured Marilyn Monroe to the ones hitting the newsstands today.

"They no longer have to store 57 years — 682 issues — of Playboy under their mattress," said Jimmy Jellinek, Playboy's chief content officer.

Chicago-based Playboy has seen its circulation plummet to 1.5 million today from 3.15 million in 2006 and has been trying all sorts of gimmicks to attract readers in recent years. One issue included a set of 3-D glasses to better see a centrefold shot in 3-D; another turned over the cover to a cartoon character, Marge Simpson.

Jellinek calls the website "the world's sexiest time machine" and "an anthology of cool" for a magazine he refers to as "the Mount Rushmore of literary greatness."

But one industry analyst makes Playboy sound more like a tired, dusty half-empty amusement park.

"The problem with Playboy is it not only lost its powerful interviews, but it lost its lead," said Samir Husni, director of the Magazine Innovation Center at the University of Mississippi School of Journalism.

Not-so-Secret Service on Twitter

► U.S. spy agency apologizes for employee's tweet
► Post quickly taken down, but re-tweets keep it alive

The U.S. Secret Service should consider reverting to code.

The information gathering organization decided to open a Twitter account this month, and while it isn't regaling us with tales of terror raids and false moustaches, the organization is letting us know it isn't a fan of Fox News — at least one employee isn't.

"(H)ad to monitor Fox for a story. Can't. Deal. With. The. Blathering," a tweet from @SecretService, the service's official account, read Thursday.

The post was quickly taken down, but as the Secret Service probably knows, that which is posted on the World Wide Web

- The agency hopes the account will be a useful recruitment tool.
- The Canadian Security Intelligence Service does not have a Twitter account.

rarely vanishes for good. Re-tweets of the offending message appeared on Twitter and others offered screen grabs.

And then there were the conspiracy theories:

"Secret Service tweet is now gone. Rogue agent? Or hackers? Would be sad if Secret Service was no more secure than Lindsay Lohan," tweeted Time writer Amy Sullivan, who also re-tweeted the original post.

The Secret Service has since apologized. It also said the vanishing tweet had been posted by an employee with access to the service's account who mistakenly believed they were on their personal account.

But why are the Secret Service's Twitter novices watching Fox?

"Our public affairs employees monitor all the news channels throughout the day for stories that affect the Secret Service," special agent in charge Edwin M. Donovan told ABC News.

SPEAKING OF THE APOCALYPSE ...

THE METRO LIST

ANDREW WALLACE
METRO

1 End days. According to Harold Camping, the head of the Christian radio network Family Stations Inc., the world will end Saturday. Apparently, an earthquake will shake the Earth and the true believers will be swept up to heaven, while the rest of us are left behind to bear witness to the destruction of all human life. From Camping: "We know without any shadow of a doubt it is going to happen." Uh, OK?

2 Freedom of expression. Tyler the Creator, the frontman for Odd Future and one of hip hop's weirdest up-and-comers, recently received the ire of one-half of Tegan and Sara for his misogynistic and homophobic lyrical content. The conversation took to the Twitterverse and somehow the issue morphed into a discourse on free speech. This, of course, isn't a free speech issue — it's an idiot-with-a-platform issue.

"Apparently, an earthquake will shake the Earth and the true believers will be swept up to heaven, while the rest of us are left behind to bear witness to the destruction."

3 Librarians. The profession is under threat in Ontario and elsewhere. In a world where e-books are booming and cellphones provide instant access to more information than anybody could ever need, an old-time curator of ink-and-paper products seems both obsolete and irrelevant. But librarians are still a wonderful resource. A library reconceived for the information economy could be more valuable than ever, and a librarian calibrated to meet today's information challenges could be its greatest asset.

4 The Biebs. This week Forbes magazine announced that Justin Bieber, the boy wonder from Stratford, Ont., is officially the third most influential celebrity in the world. He has made teen girls swoon, sold out a world tour and starred in a top-grossing film, not to mention selling his footwear and hair on eBay for $5,500 and $40,558, respectively. Apparently, that's the stuff influence is made of. Speaking of the Apocalypse ...

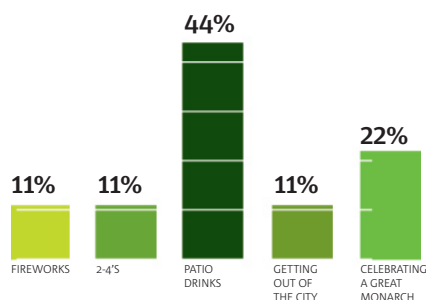

5 James Frey. The famous author (and noted liar) is on tour in Canada to promote his new book, The Final Testament of the Holy Bible. On Wednesday, he was in Toronto to discuss the work with Indigo "chief book lover" Heather Reisman, which will surely be a boon for sales. In today's world, liars remain unpunished — instead, they seem to be roundly rewarded.

6 The Gos. It looks like Canadian kid Ryan Gosling is going to try his hand at directing. Word is The Notebook heartthrob will star in his own directorial debut, a remake of the 1980s musical The Idolmaker. Bieber may be Canada's most influential celebrity icon, but the Gos is the Canadian Renaissance man. He acts, he produces, he sings and now he is going to direct. Also, like Ferris Bueller, he seems to be a righteous dude.

WHITE ROCK, B.C. Prime Minister Stephen Harper's latest Senate appointments must be called into question. Senators are to be a check on the prime minister, his cabinet and his House of Commons majority. They have the responsibility of providing "sober second thought" from their appointed positions. Appointing defeated candidates to the Senate cannot be considered otherwise than directly conflicting with this responsibility.

Have Harper's purely partisan personal appointees committed to voting as he pleases? Is that not vote buying? Is Harper not again in contempt of Parliament in making such appointments?

Neither abolishing nor electing senators serves the purpose that the chamber was meant to serve when Canada came into being. A process that will enable the Senate to play its designated role that Harper has completely destroyed is to have senators appointed by the Governor General upon the recommendation of the Queen's Privy Council for Canada.

The highest court in Oregon unanimously ruled Thursday that retired bus driver Cynthia Willis can have her medical marijuana and a concealed handgun, too.

The ruling issued in Salem, Ore., upheld previous decisions by the Oregon Court of Appeals and circuit court in finding that a federal law barring criminals and drug addicts from buying firearms does not excuse sheriffs from issuing concealed weapons permits to people who hold medical marijuana cards and otherwise qualify.

"We hold that the Federal Gun Control Act does not pre-empt the state's concealed handgun licensing statute and, therefore, the sheriffs must issue (or renew) the requested licences," Chief Justice Paul De Muniz wrote.

Willis welcomed the ruling. "I feel like a big girl now," she said. "I feel like a real human being now, not just a source of revenue to the county."

Oregon became one of the first states in the U.S. to authorize people to use marijuana to treat medical conditions when voters approved an initiative in 1998.

RICHARD CROUSE & MARK BRESLIN

► Johnny Depp stars in Pirates of the Caribbean: On Stranger Tides, the fourth movie in the Pirates franchise.

It's time to jump ship

► Richard Crouse and Mark Breslin debate Pirates of the Caribbean: On Stranger Tides ► Mermaids are great, but not much else to write home about

Richard Crouse: Mark, my main question after watching the new Pirates movie is, If this was the first one of the series would we have had a two, three and four? I don't think so. It's a big splashy epic, but lacks the fun and Johnny's joie de vivre of the original. What say you, matey?

Mark Breslin: Richard, I wasn't even a fan of the original. And no franchise should exceed a trilogy unless the words "godfather" or "cheerleaders" are in the title. An appreciation of this movie is contingent upon how you feel about Johnny Depp and how much swordplay you can handle. I adore Depp's brilliant characterization in the series, but really, the tricks are starting to show their age. And I didn't like swashbuckling even when Douglas Fairbanks did it in 1932. Still, I thought this edition of Pirates was the best since the original, whatever that means.

RC: I don't think this one has the spark of the others. It's not as funny, Depp seems like he's gone back to the Captain Jack treasure chest one too many times and the action scenes, despite the 3-D, don't fly off the screen the way they have in the past. I liked the mermaids and think their attack sequence is the most exciting thing in the movie, but I may be wrong simply because the movie is so dark I may have missed something.

MB: Oh, those mermaids! Who knew they spoke in a Scandinavian accent? Yes, they are the most exciting thing in the movie, although I did enjoy Ian MacShane's villainy. But despite the fountain of youth plot device, these Pirates are getting old. And you're right about how dark the film is: I was straining to make out which pirate was which. Quick clue: Depp is the Pirate Who's Had A Bit Of Work Done.

RC: Ha! Perhaps playing the same character four times in eight years is too much for Depp, or perhaps the limitations of Captain Jack are becoming apparent but he's not as entertaining as before. Not that director Rob Marshall helps him. The action sequences are as well choreographed as you might expect from the man who made Chicago and Nine, but they are also as exciting as you would expect from a man who specializes in making musicals.

MB: I see what you're getting at. For the next installment, make it a musical complete with a chorus line of mermaids!

Cooper loves his wolfpack

► Hangover star says bond with his co-stars is the secret ingredient for movie's success

SCENE@METRONews.CA

Although the antics are amped up in The Hangover: Part II, star Bradley Cooper admits shooting the anticipated comedy was at least easier than the first.

"There's a certain amount of ease in knowing the character — having all this history," said Cooper recently in Toronto. "There was a lot less preparation because the preparation was already (in doing) a movie. That's a hell of a lot of rehearsal time to have another movie under your belt."

With the 2009 surprise hit earning a stunning $467 million US worldwide, there will be a lot of eyes on Part II and the comedy's unfolding plot about a bachelor party gone wrong. This time, Cooper and company travel to Bangkok, Thailand and have to uncover the events that led to a face tattoo, the disappearance of the bride's 16-year-old brother and a mysterious drug-dealing monkey.

"The stakes are so high in this movie. It gets darker and because of that the three of us have to go to places making it believable

He explained that the movie's secret is in the camaraderie with co-stars

Zach Galifianakis and Ed Helms.

"It's the reason I would do seven of these movies ... it was just really wonderful to see what would come out of that — things that weren't in the script," he said.

For The Hangover: Part II, the writing doesn't end on the page either as Cooper and company have been credited for bringing some of the biggest laughs while improvising during the shoot.

"Comedy has to happen fast," insisted Cooper. "It's like music and especially when the three of us are working, it's nice — you really get in the groove, everybody's in the right gear and it just starts flowing."

Director: Jonathan Hensleigh

A surprisingly strong true-life gangster saga from longtime Hollywood screenwriter Jonathan Hensleigh (Die Hard With A Vengeance) about Danny Greene, a longshoreman union rep and mafia knee-breaker who took on New York's infamous five families in the '70s, leading to a summer of bombings in Cleveland and a major mob war. An uncommonly good cast led by Ray Stevenson, Val Kilmer, and Christopher Walken and a solid, if somewhat derivative screenplay ensure it's far more entertaining than most contemporary crime movie fare. PHIL BROWN

Kung Fu Panda 2 a 'passion project'

► Sequel gets a new director who was excited to step up to the plate ► Crew watched kung fu movies in down time

PHIL
SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

For anyone with a place in their hearts for kung fu movies and absurdly cute CGI animals, the release of Kung Fu Panda 2 is cause for giddy excitement. The first film was a critical success that also cleaned up at the box office in 2008 and Dreamworks Animation began work on the sequel shortly after it opened in theatres.

Jennifer Yuh Nelson was key member of the creative/design team on the original Kung Fu Panda and was promoted to director for this second outing.

Speaking to Metro, the filmmaker said she was thrilled to return. "I was always ready to keep going regardless of whether I was the director or not and a lot of the same group stayed on because everyone loved the first movie so much. It was always a passion project for everyone involved and that continued on the sequel."

Creating a CGI animated film on this scale was a huge undertaking for the director, who worked on the project for three years before it was complete.

"We didn't start seeing finish animated sequences until about a year and a half out," admitted Nelson. "It trickles in a little at a time and it's always a shock when you're working with rough black and white storyboards that you're used to and then all of a sudden you see the same scenes in gorgeous colour animation. It's a big jolt for the crew, because you suddenly realize what the final film will look like."

To help break up the tedium during the long production, Nelson said the crew would hold "kung fu movie lunches," watching an endless list of classic titles in the genre to inspire the vast team of animators.

"We'd watch everything from Drunken Master to Kung Fu Hustle," said the director. "That's one of the reasons why these movies aren't parodies. They are a homage to movies that we all really love."

From laugh track to soundtrack

► Glover is not the first comedian to make the jump to musician ► Metro looks at those who have done it before

SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

Now that reality television is the norm, the world might be more accepting of a comic actor who turns to music, like Donald Glover.

As Troy, the naive and excitable former jock on NBC's Community, he is hilarious, and as a rapper leading Childish Gambino, Glover is more than proficient, rocking a shockingly different persona than viewers may have thought they knew.

Here are a few others who crossed over.

Steve Martin

Martin always put goofy songs on his comedy albums but his 2009 album, The Crow: New Songs for the 5-String Banjo, proved he could gracefully transition into another medium.

Eddie Murphy

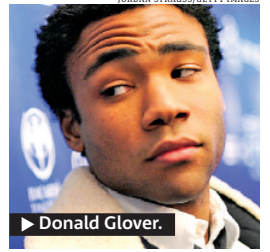

After tucking funny

songs between comedy tracks on his albums, Murphy decided to take music seriously.

His Rick James-produced anthem, Party All the Time, went to No. 2 on the charts in 1985. Most of his follow-up singing work was met with less enthusiasm.

Adam Sandler

Sandler mastered the funny-guy-with-the-guitar thing on Saturday Night Live. But 1997's What's Your Name? is all songs, and though the musicianship is impressive, the lyrics fly somewhere between funny and sincere, and it falls flat.

► Donald Glover.

Today is one of my favourite days of the entire year: the Friday leading into the first summer long weekend. After a cold winter and a cool, and for many, disastrously wet spring, Canadians are possessed by hopeful optimism about what the next four months will bring.

This means it's also time to load up on some new music.

been released in either the spring or summer, making them great soundtracks for heading camping or laying out on the beach. His 10th studio album, which again features his band, The Relentless 7-fits, that bill. And yes, that's Jackson Browne making a guest appearance.

Moby/Destroyed (out now): Electonica's favourite bald vegan returns with an album written mostly in hotel rooms in the middle of the night.

A chronic insomniac, Moby captures both the peace and loneliness one feels at 3 in the morning in a strange city.

Listening to this album in the daytime doesn't feel quite right, but in the middle of the night, it makes all the sense in the world.

Eddie Vedder/Ukulele Songs (out May 31): When you're one of the most famous singers in the world, you can do whatever you want, including recording a solo album where you play the ukulele.

Rumour has it that Eddie originally planned this project as gift to friends and family, but it turned out so well that it's getting a proper release.

Haunting yet very, very pretty.

Expressing individuality

Live loud and prosper: Gaga sets example with her unique individuality

Rock 'n' roll and its sub-genres have always had an outcast component. Because many of the people making this type of music were misfits growing up, they have occasionally found inspiration in singing about their outsider status.

But where The Who sang, "hope I die before I get old," in their 1965 song, My Generation, singers these days are using a more encouraging tone. Lady Gaga puts her personality on parade by saying that she was Born This Way, and Ke$ha lets her freak flag fly by singing We R Who We R.

Uniqueness

► A few of the other songs about being different in all the right ways:

► Rebel Rebel by David Bowie (1974); Written by David Bowie. Sample lyric: "You've got your mother in a whirl/ She's not sure if you're a boy or a girl/Hey babe, your hair's alright"

► The Greatest Love of All by Whitney Houston (1985);

Pink is currently telling her listeners, "don't you ever, ever feel like you're less than f—in' perfect" while Katy Perry tells hers that they "don't have to feel like a wasted space" in

Written by: Michael Masser and Linda Creed. Sample lyric: "If I fail, if I succeed/At least I live as I believe/No matter what they take from me/They can't take away my dignity"

► Beautiful by Christina Aguilera (2002); Written by: Linda Perry. Sample lyric: "We are beautiful no matter what they say/Words won't bring us down"

Firework.

But why are all these women singing so many anthems of individuality all of a sudden? Ke$ha says she thinks it's about awareness.

"I wrote We R Who We R because I read about a bunch of teenage boys who killed themselves because they were bullied at school for being 'different,'" she says. "I also wasn't like everyone else in school and was a bit misunderstood. As I've gotten older, I'm happy I wasn't like everyone else. And I wanted these kids to have an anthem that expressed that."

Gaga told Metro that she's seen how the message of Born This Way has moved her younger fans, and when she's talking about their generation it seems to resonate more.

"The new generation is very affected by the lack of equality," she says. "I noticed I had 12- and 13-year-old kids at my shows saying, 'I felt like I didn't belong and couldn't be myself with my family and now there's Born This Way and I have a very easy answer to a very difficult question in my life."

God declares your responsibility to warn all peoples under your authority.

John 15:13 Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

Ezekiel 33:6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned; if the sword come, and take any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.

NO MAN KNOWS THE DAY OR THE HOUR?

Daniel 12:4 But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased. [At the end of time, Man will know!]

The Bible declares that "No Man Knows" is describing the unsaved condition of mankind. If you are saved then we may know all things spiritually discerned in God's Word.

1Cor 2:10-19 But God hath revealed them [true gospel] unto us [true believers] by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things [true gospel], yea, the deep things [true gospel] of God. 12 Now we [true believers] have received ~ the spirit which is of God: that we might know the things [true gospel] that are freely given to us [true believers] of God. 14 But the natural man receiveth not the things [true gospel] ~ for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them [=No unsaved man knows] because they are spiritually discerned. 19 ~ we have the mind of Christ.

Noah knew when the flood would occur, Abraham was told of the destruction of Sodom, In fact, Amos 3:7 shows, God required Himself to declare every judgment before it occurred

Amos 3:7 Surely the Lord GOD will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets.

HAROLD CAMPING A PROPHET?

In Camping's book 1994? he discovered an important end date for this world. However, because God had not finished revealing all the truths of the timeline in the Bible, Mr. Camping misunderstood the significance of that end date against the language in Matthew 24:22 "Except those days be shortened there should no flesh be saved". This language led him to believe God was speaking of the end of the world. The only correction to Mr. Camping's work in the book 1994? is that this language "those days be shortened" was pointing to the all important end of the first half of The Great Tribulation. The significance is; The first half was a period when virtually no one was being saved. It wasn't until the second half of The Great Tribulation (Which we are at the end of now) when God started the ingathering that He describes as "The latter rain" where "A great multitude that no man can number" shall be saved.

Mr. Camping's work remains viable today because this crucial milestone helps us know for certain when the second part of The Great Tribulation began.

Critics ignore the "?" in the title and the fact that Mr. Camping was quite clear in his book that 2011 was an alternative year for the end of the world.

Through the efforts of thousands of critical listeners, all doubt has been removed regarding the faithfulness of Harold Camping's study of "God's Time line of History"

Using The Bible's definition of "Prophet" as one who brings the truth of God's word then Harold Camping and those who have validated his work are the real deal.

CHRIST DID KNOW?

Mark 13:32 But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the son, but the Father.

Notice that Mark 13:32 does not say "Christ" does not know. It is easily proved that the language "the son" cannot be pointing to Christ as follows:

The original Greek did not use capital letters in the word "son".

1Cor2: The Spirit of God knows all things.
Col 2:9 For in him [Christ] dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily.

To say "Christ does not know all things" is to say Christ did not have the Spirit of God in him. This is blasphemy against the Holy Spirit. Who else could "the son" be pointing to? Satan is called "The son of perdition" "The angels in heaven" is pointing to "The fallen angels" which were cast out heaven when Christ went to the cross. Rev 12

A multitude of faithful Bible students, that no man can number, agree:

The end of this world, beginning on MAY 21 2011, is established by God's Word The Holy Bible and God will shortly bring it to pass.

A MESSAGE OF HOPE:

The date of judgment has been set by God, is declared in "The Holy Bible" and is being understood by a great multitude that no man can number. Our heartfelt prayer is that all readers take earnest heed of this warning and "Cry out to God for mercy" while you "Search" for truth on your own. Go to www.timehasanend.org and compare its faithfulness to The Bible for yourself. Psalm 51:17 The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

► What does Lady Gaga's handwriting say about her? Metro finds out

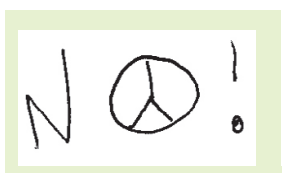

CARLY BALDWIN
SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

The estimable Lady Gaga served as Metro's guest editor on Tuesday and we got her to answer some of our questions in her own handwriting.

Which, of course, raises the question: What does Lady Gaga's penmanship say about her?

Metro consulted Dennis Duez, a Pittsburgh-based handwriting analyst who has scrutinized the writings of Britney Spears (she's very obstinate) and former New York Gov. Eliot Spitzer (he needs romance, but does not trust it). After taking a look at Gaga handwriting samples, Duez deduced:

- Lady Gaga is a strongly independent, and a my-way-or-the-highway person, as evidenced by her straight up and sometimes slanted slightly to the left lettering.

She believes that her way is the right way, said

Duez. Critics beware!

- Gaga does not like to be misunderstood, as evidenced by copious amounts of printed text and is a strong communicator. See open tops on lower case "O," "A," and "D" characters.

- Her handwriting evidences a strong performance talent, indicated by the broad "T" bar crossings.

- Honesty is critical for Gaga; when someone lies to her they are gone, gone, gone, said Duez. See the constant use of uppercase, cobra strike "S" through out her writing.

- Apparently, there is an old relationship that has not quite faded from Gaga's memory, theorizes Duez. It may still return, unbidden, in dreams, he said. See the beginning arc in the ending "y" in "humanity."

- And, our personal favourite: There is evidence of a strong impact to Gaga's left leg/knee/shin area. This shows up on the dent on the "g" at the end of "unassuming" and in several other "y" characters in her handwriting sample.

► Judah Friedlander is currently on his World Champion standup tour.

Is it time for fans to start worrying about 30 Rock?

► Actor Judah Friedlander doesn't think the popular show is done yet Judah Friedlander says the recent postponement of Season 6 of 30 Rock isn't anything to worry about.

The actor, who plays trucker hat-loving Frank Rossitano on the acclaimed TV comedy series, says NBC was sincere earlier this week when it cited Tina Fey's pregnancy as the reason it's pushing the Season 6 debut to next January.

"Here's what's going on, to my knowledge: Tina Fey is pregnant, not by (co-star) Tracy Morgan and not by me, as far as I can remember," Friedlander, 42, wise-cracked in a recent phone interview to promote his standup show at Toronto's Second City on Thursday.

"Now, the thing is, Tina Fey is having a baby soon and I believe she's having the baby around the time we normally start filming for the new season, so our start time is actually being delayed some," he continued.

"We're going to start filming later than normal, so because of that our show has to air later than normal. So to my knowledge that's what that's all about."

Despite critical praise and a slew of awards, 30 Rock has failed to attract blockbuster ratings and its future has frequently been in doubt.

With star Alec Baldwin's contract set to expire in 2012, and with the recent Season 6 postponement, fans have recently been more concerned than usual. The Atlantic Wire also recently published an article questioning the future of the show, opening with the sentence: "Is it time to start worrying about 30 Rock?"

However, Friedlander is confident they'll be back. "We are guaranteed for at least one more season and after that we don't know yet," he said.

During the 30 Rock hiatus, Friedlander will be busy with his World Champion standup tour.

The title for Friedlander's tour, as his fans well know, stems from his eccentric public persona as a standup comedian.

With a bushy beard and long locks, thick glasses, and T-shirts and trucker hats emblazoned with his World Champion slogan (sometimes in other languages and even in braille), the jokester boasts onstage and in interviews that he's an undefeated master of martial arts, among many other things.

Maria Shriver has reportedly hired top celebrity divorce lawyer Laura Wasser, whose past clients have included Angelina Jolie, Christina Aguilera and Britney Spears, according to People magazine.

But that doesn't necessarily mean that her marriage to former California governor Arnold Schwarzenegger is all but done. "Maria hasn't decided yet if she wants to end her marriage," a source says, adding that Shriver hired Wasser before news of Schwarzenegger's affair and child with a former housekeeper got out.

Beckham baby to be born in U.S.

David and Victoria Beckham have reportedly set the date to welcome their first daughter, planning the birth for July 4 in a private hospital in Los Angeles, according to the Sun.

The Beckhams, who already have three sons, were reportedly planning to welcome the girl at London's Portland Hospital.

"While the date hasn't changed, it was decided a Los Angeles clinic would be best for the immediate family," a source says.

"Victoria and David love America, its culture and her people, who have welcomed them with open arms. The most important thing is the health of mother and baby and things can always change at the last minute. Match made in grill heaven

I'm a bit of a barbecue weenie. At my house, boy meets grill until mid-fall. Then I wheel my gas-fired girl into the garage until Victoria Day.

She's ready to make her 2011 debut this long weekend, and when it comes to picking a wine to match grilled meats, I look for juice that can hold its own against the intensity of the meat, the influence of the marinade and, since I'm a bit of a hamburger aficionado, any condiments I decide to lather on when meat hits bun.

Think young, jammy and red. It's not time to uncork that Bordeaux you've had since midway through the last century. Best bets are Californian zinfandel and merlot, Aussie shiraz, Chilean cabernet sauvignon, and for a taste of the Old World, a Barbera d'Asti from Italy's Piedmont region.

In Argentina, barbecue is a way of life and a red like Trapique's 2010 Varietals Malbec ($9.00 - $11.99) — with dark, blueberry flavour, balanced tannins and spice trail — is a grill match made in Mendoza. PRICES REFLECT THE RANGE ACROSS CANADA. No bake Chocolate Biscuit Cake

MATTHEW MEAD/ THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

► This unbaked creation involves lots of crumbled cookies and chocolate ► It's easy and quick to make

If you love those chocolate covered digestive biscuits, multiply that by 1,000 or so and you have this no-bake, no-cake cake.

Preparation:

1 Coat an 8-inch (20 cm) round springform pan with cooking spray; set aside.

2 With your hands break up the biscuits into about 1/2-inch (1 cm) pieces; you want chunks, not crumbs.

3 In a microwave-safe bowl, combine cream, honey and butter. Microwave on high for 1 1/2 minutes, or until bubbling. Add chocolate and stir until melted and the mixture is smooth. Stir in vanilla, then the crumbled biscuits. Spoon the mixture into the prepared pan, using the back of the spoon to smooth the top. Gently tap the pan on the counter to eliminate any air pockets. Refrigerate for 3 hours or until thoroughly chilled.

4 Glaze: In small saucepan over medium heat, combine butter and cream. When the mixture reaches a boil, remove it from the heat and add the chocolate, stirring until completely melted and smooth.

5 Carefully remove the sides from the springform pan (you may need to slide a paring knife around the inside upper edge to ensure the sides come away cleanly from the cake). Invert the Chocolate Biscuit Cake onto a wire rack, then remove the bottom of the pan from the cake. Set the rack over parchment paper to catch any of the drips.

► This recipe makes 12 servings.

6 Pour the glaze evenly over the cake, allowing it to drip down and completely cover the top and sides. Allow the cake to firm up, then transfer it to a serving plate. Refrigerate any of the leftovers.

Boston regains defensive prowess

► Seguin scores again after sitting out first two rounds of playoffs

Tim Thomas made 31 saves for his first playoff shutout this season and rookie Tyler Seguin scored his fourth goal in the last three games as the Boston Bruins beat the Tampa Bay Lightning 2-0 in Game 3 of the NHL Eastern Conference finals Thursday night.

Thomas, the favourite to win the Vezina Trophy as the top regular-season goalie, gave up nine goals in the first two games of the series that the Bruins lead 2-1.

Seguin made it 2-0 from in-close at 8:12 of the third as the puck trickled between the legs of Lightning goalie Dwayne Roloson and into the net.

The 19-year-old Seguin was inserted into the lineup to replace an injured Patrice Bergeron in Game 1 and has seven points overall.

David Krejci also scored for the Bruins.

Bergeron was back in the lineup after missing two games because of a concussion sustained when he was hit by Philadelphia's Claude Giroux in the final game of the second round.

Krejci was alone in the low slot and opened the scoring on a backhander just 1:09 into the first. Boston is 7-0 during the post-season when scoring the first goal of the game.

Krejci was briefly shaken up late in the first when he was hit in the neutral zone by Tampa Bay defenceman Marc-Andre Bergeron, who received a minor penalty for elbowing.

Both teams were looking to play tighter defence after combining for 18 goals in the first two games.

Tampa Bay centre Steven Stamkos said before the game that the Lightning wanted to avoid "run-and-gun hockey." Boston centre Brad Marchand added that both teams hoped to "buckle down" on defence.

Stamkos had three shot as the Lightning outshot Boston 10-8 during the first period.

Game 4 is Saturday in Tampa.

NHL back in the 'Peg? League denies report

The NHL and True North Sports and Entertainment were disputing a report Thursday night that a deal to bring the Atlanta Thrashers to Winnipeg is done but it didn't stop fans from celebrating.

Citing sources, the Globe and Mail reported Thursday evening that the announcement confirming the sale will be made Tuesday in Winnipeg.

"It's not true," True North spokesman Scott Brown said when asked about the report that a deal was done.

True North Sports and Entertainment owns and operates the Manitoba Moose of the American Hockey League and the MTS Centre arena, which would become the NHL team's new home.

Armstrong used drugs: Ex-teammate

CYCLING. A former teammate of Lance Armstrong has told 60 Minutes that he used performance-enhancing drugs with the seven-time Tour de France winner to cheat in cycling races, including the tour.

Tyler Hamilton alleges Armstrong took a blood-booster called EPO in the 1999 Tour and before the race in 2000 and 2001. Armstrong won the race every year from 1999-2005.

Armstrong has steadfastly denied doping and has never failed a drug test.

J.P. Arencibia hit a two-run homer Thursday to snap a 1-1 tie in the seventh as the Toronto Blue Jays beat the Tampa Bay Rays 3-2. Juan Rivera also homered for the Jays (22-21). Toronto starter Ricky Romero allowed three hits over seven innings for the win.

Reigning queen of players

FIELD OF PLAY

SCOTT RUSSELL

CALGARY@METRONews.ca

At the training camp for Germany's national women's football team in Bitburg, not far from the Luxembourg border, there's a photographer trying to get a shot of the queen of European soccer.

Birgit Prinz isn't playing along. The 33-year-old striker, the most prolific player in FIFA Women's World Cup history, lets her teammates pose and waits until the circus is over before emerging from the clubhouse.

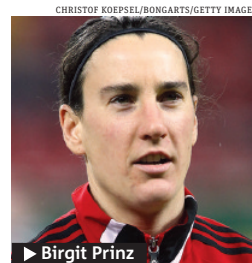

"For me it's never been about personal goals," Prinz remarks. "It's always been about being part of this team."

Her English is remarkable given that she rarely encounters an interview in anything other than her mother tongue. Such is the modest nature of acclaim granted to arguably the greatest women's soccer player in the annals of the game.

Prinz, you see, is approaching her fifth World Cup. She has been the champion twice and holds the record for goals scored in World Cup matches with 14. She has played at four Olympics and won the bronze medal three times. For good measure, add three consecutive years as FIFA World Player of the Year from 2003-05 and 208 international matches in 16 years as the German stalwart.

Prinz has done it all.

► Birgit Prinz

Now she gets to compete in a World Cup at home and take her place as a much appreciated legend in a football-mad nation.

"I never had female role models when I was first playing this sport," Prinz admits. "I looked up to the guys who played in the Bundesliga. They were my role models. Girls need role models, too. If I am one now, then that makes me happy."

A practising physiotherapist and student of psychology who has been vocal in promoting the humanitarian aims of FIFA, Prinz has achieved all her goals and then some. Just ask former teammate Steffi Jones, the president and CEO of the FIFA Women's World Cup 2011 organizing committee.

"Birgit is my hero," says Jones. "She's not as fast as she once was and doesn't score as much. She just makes everyone around her better."

That's what heroes do, and make no mistake, Prinz is football royalty.

She is the undisputed queen of football in this country and probably throughout the world. When she plays against Canada to open the World Cup at Olympic Stadium in Berlin before 70,000 fans, Prinz will finally receive the undivided attention of her loyal subjects.
